DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 4, 7 – 16 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

3. Claims 4 and 14 refer to depletion regions but do not specify the voltage. Since the depletion region is voltage dependent it is not defined.

4. Claims 7 and 18 refer to “constructs”. It is not understood what this means.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 1, 2, 4, 5, 7 – 10 and 14 - 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Miida et al.

7. With respect to claims 1 and 17, Miida et al. show (see cover Figure) a photodiode 111 surrounded by isolation 14, a first n-region 12, a second p-region 15 a third n+-region 17 which is more highly doped than region 12.

Art Unit: 2814

8. With respect to claims 7 and 18, Miida et al. also show a FET 112 with source 17a connected to region 17.
9. With respect to claim 2, region 17 surrounds region 15.
10. With respect to claim 4, at some voltage the depletion region will extend to any desired degree.
11. With respect to claim 5, region 17 is along the surface.
12. With respect to claim 8, areas 17 and 17a are contiguous.
13. With respect to claim 9, region 17 surrounds region 15.
14. With respect to claim 10, the third region 17 is away from the gate.
15. With respect to claim 14, at some voltage the depletion region will extend to any desired degree.
16. With respect to claim 15, region 17 extends along the surface and is opposite to part of region 15.
17. With respect to claim 16, the limitation is a processing limitation which carries no weight in a claim drawn to a device.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

18. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

19. Claims 3, 6, 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Miida et al. in view of Chiang et al.

Art Unit: 2814

20. With respect to claims 3 and 12, Miida et al. show contacts 21, 22 and 20 as extending above the surface with no support. Chiang et al. show a similar device (see Figure 4) where the device is covered with a transparent insulator 28. It would be obvious to include the insulator shown by Chiang et al. in the Miida et al. device to provide a necessary part.

21. With respect to claim 6, Chiang et al. show the regions as extending to the isolation regions and since this appears to be a design variation its use would be obvious.

22. With respect to claim 13, the limitation is a processing limitation and carries no weight in a claim drawn to a device.

Allowable Subject Matter

23. Claim 11 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Miida et al. do not show the region 17 as extending to cover the fourth region.
